ALBERTA AFFAIRS

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT WELFARE

The following is a summary of what may be regarded as pension plans for certain categories of Alberta citizens:

Old Age Assistance—Under an Agreement with the Government of Canada the Province has, since 1st January, 1952, been paying an amount up to $40.00 a month under a means test to persons in the 65-69 age group who have resided in Canada for 20 years or its equivalent.

Fifty per cent of the assistance paid may be recovered from the Federal Government.

Blind Persons' Allowances—Pensions to the blind had for several years been paid under the former Old Age Pension Act. On 1st January, 1952, a special Blind Persons' Allowance Act came into effect, and under an Agreement with the Government of Canada, the Province continued to pay an amount up to $40.00 a month under a means test to blind persons who had attained the age of 21 years and had resided in Canada for 10 years or its equivalent.

Seventy-five per cent of the allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

Widows' Pensions—Since 1st April, 1952, the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to widows of the 60-64 age group who had resided in the Province for the greater portion of the three years prior to the date of application and had resided in Canada for a period of 15 years or its equivalent prior to the date the age of 60 years was attained.

Old Age Pensions—Since 1st June, 1950, the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to disabled persons who have attained the age of 21 years and who have resided in Alberta for the 10 years immediately preceding the date of the application.

Supplementary Allowances—A allowance up to $15.00 a month is payable under a means test to Alberta residents in receipt of Old Age Security, Old Age Assistance and Blind Persons' Allowances.

Disabled Persons' Allowances—Under this Act, the Province pays up to $40.00 a month under a means test to certain permanently disabled persons who have attained the age of 18 years and who have resided in Alberta for the 10 years immediately preceding the date of application. Half of this allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES

These allowances have been paid in Alberta since 1919 to needy widows with dependent children according to the following schedule: which may vary from $50.00 a month to $145.00 a month. A special allowance up to $10.00 a month may, in addition, be paid in cases where the need is apparent.

The municipality in which the widow has acquired residence assumes 20 per cent of the cost of the required residence, the province paying the balance in addition to the special allowance. A special allowance is payable until the child reaches the age of 16 years or 18 years if attending school and making satisfactory progress.

HOSPITALIZATION FOR PENSIONERS

Hospitalization and Treatment Services—The Province, at its own expense, provides certain hospitalization and treatment services to Alberta residents who are in receipt of Old Age Assistance, Mothers' Allowances, Widows' Pensions or Supplementary Allowances. This is also available to recipients of Old Age Security under a means test.

The Province pays the entire cost of the administration of the foregoing services.

Old Age Security—Persons who have attained the age of 70 years and have resided in Canada for a period of 20 years or its equivalent the Federal Government pays a pension of $40.00 a month without a means test.

Brands Must Be Registered

The number of registered brands of grain standing for Alberta record all in the Alberta Department of Agriculture's brand office at Edmonton. The total of 1955 was just over 25,000 of which 23,500 were cattle brands; 4,000 were horse brands; 19 sheep brands; 34 poultry and 10 fish brands. W. H. M. Mead, Alberta's Livestock Commissioner, says the stock owner who registers a brand is not an insurer should be familiar with some of the points set out in the 1955 Act. The registered brand is one of the things that are used to identify the stock.

Further information can be had with regard to brand registration from the Bureau of Livestock, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Village Election

There was balloting for an election of two councillors for the Village of Delia, held at Town Hall on Monday last. K. G. Kempf was the retiring councillor, while John Beston has been elected. Those in the running were: S. P. Coffin, K. G. Kempf, H. M. Larkin, M. J. Sinclair.

The following is the result of the poll:

Coffin, S. P.	50
Kempf, K. G.	50
Larkin, H. M.	58
Sinclair, M. J.	72
Total votes	271

There were no spoiled ballots. Mrs. Olive Martin, Town Clerk was the Returning Officer.

Alberta Safety Council

Fire took 46 lives in Alberta last year, including 17 children, according to A. E. Bridges, Provincial Fire Commissioner. Of the child fatalities, seven were due to the youngsters being left alone in a dwelling, trailer or car and were consequently unattended. One child died from severe burns after playing with matches as the clothing took fire.

The Alberta Safety Council has drawn attention to this heavy toll in the burning of fire hazards and the need of using every protective means to prevent fires.

Even this year is starting out badly as nine fire deaths have been reported to date, two of these being children.

Officials of the Fire Commissioner's office say that in 75 per cent of fire deaths occur in homes.

A review of last year's death toll in Alberta shows that in addition to the children, eleven women and twenty-one men lost their lives in fires.

Cause of the blaze in nine instances was due to gasoline spilled, while in three cases the cause was an explosion when coal oil was used to start the fire.

One of the most common causes of fire is the use of gas stoves or oil heaters. In 1954, there were 35 lives lost in fires, including eight children. The worst year was 1953, when the death toll was 64, inclusive of 25 children. In 1952 there were 36 deaths, of which 15 were children. The total in 1951 was 28 deaths, including 13 children. An unofficial compilation shows that in the 11 years, 400 persons have died from fires in this province.

The Safety Council suggests these things to do in case of fire: Don't sleep doors open if you think there is a fire. Feel your way out if they are hot, get out another way or block the door with furniture or mattresses to keep out smoke and gases.

Remember the air is usually better near the floor in a smoky-filled room.

Hold your breath and cover your face if you have to make a dash through smoke or fire.

Don't jump or drop from upstairs windows except as a last resort—wait for the fireman.

Don't ever go back into a burning building for any reason, smoke and fire gases can burn the smallest fire can be deadly.

Unless it is a small fire and you are certain you can control it, don't attempt to fight it. Don't waste your time or your life by trying to fight it—get away and call the fire department.

Durum Wheat Area

Durum wheat is suitable for a large area in Alberta, says Robert L. Plach, Alberta supervisor of crop improvement. This area is the largest area in the world for durum wheat in Canada. Durum is late maturing and is taller and more of the straw than other wheats. It is extremely drought-tolerant, and it is the only durum wheat in most northern areas that will produce a crop of suitable quality.

I am pleased to endorse the Red Cross appeal for funds, and would commend it for the consideration of all the people of the Province of Alberta.

Feed and Fertilizer

Doing fertilizer to increase the yield of manure and grain is good management but little business is not the little business, says Robert L. Plach, Alberta's Supervisor of Crop Improvement. Research studies reported to the Furze Group Advisory Committee suggest that the application of fertilizer to grain soils of low fertility improves the nutritional value of the feed product.

Even feeding livestock good quality feed crops will not be enough to make them grow and gain weight if the soil is not fertile enough to produce the crops that they need to reach market weight.

The use of fertilizer on soil will give other benefits that we need more dollars return than just the increased crop yields.
